Teacher Unions preventing early school leaving through the use of ICT in education

In this project ETUCE is looking for good practices of:

- how ICT and innovative teaching based on ICT can help to motivate & re-attract students at risk-of exclusion back to school.
- specific competences that teachers need to be able to provide this education
- how teachers can support the potential of ICT to bridge the gap between what students experience/learn at home & what they learn in compulsory education

Share your good practice with other teachers and education stakeholders on how you support students at risk of exclusion through the pedagogical use of ICT & reduce early school leaving in upper secondary schools by sending an email to: secretariat@csee-etuice.org
